Fishing Lake

Longtime teacher honored at Homecoming

The residents of Fishing Lake Settlement enjoyed a large influx of visitors this past weekend for a homecoming and school reunion, complete with pancake breakfasts, parade, slowpitch and horseshoe tournaments, contests and games, banquet, dance and princess pageant.

A boatload of princess contestants won the Commercial Float division of the parade for Lakeland Chrysler of Bonnyville, with Dumont Bus Lines placing second. J. F. Dion School's float, recognizing Sister Irene, a teacher retiring after 22 years of service to the Northlands School Division, won the Clubs and Organizations section, with the Pukchahonsi Seniors Club in second place. Anna Durocher took first place in the Horse and Rider section, with Donnie Dumont and Darren Calliou splitting second prize, while the Sharkey's Bus Service chuckwagon, driven by Roy Cardinal, won Best Dressed Team, with second prize going to Fishing Lake Community Pasture.

After a full day of sporting events, a capacity crowd filled the J. F. Dion School auditorium for the School Reunion Banquet, which honored Sister Irene for her many years of dedicated service to the school.

Superintendent of Schools Colin

Kelly summed up the feelings of many local residents and former J. F. Dion students when he said, "What do you say to someone who has dedicated her entire life to God...and has touched the lives of each and every one of us?" Settlement elder Christina Desjarlais added that the community "can't say enough" to properly thank the dedicated teacher for more than two decades of service. Teacher's assistant Elaine Ward, who has been at the school for 10 years, said Sister Irene "is like a second mother to all who came in contact with her," and taught patience, understanding and love along with her school subjects. Principal Ken Klein noted that he started each school day with a brief chat with Sister Irene, and if he missed doing so, "the day didn't seem right."

Superintendent Kelly presented Sister Irene with a certificate from Northlands, while Corporate Board Chairman Manny Chalifoux presented a tufted moosehair picture. Local School Board Chairman Bruce Desjarlais presented her with a photo album and guest book, and a pair of handcrafted moccasins. Sister Gisele, Sister Julie and Brian Tucker, who are also retiring from the school staff, were also presented with moccasins.

Facility Enhancement Grant For Heinsburg

Heinsburg Community Club received a $40,169.50 Community Facility Enhancement Grant from MLA John Drobot last week. Lori Best and Vernon Sharkey accept the framed oversized cheque, which will go toward putting a 22 by 60 foot addition on Heinsburg Community Hall, as well as replacing the heating system and the roof on the well used facility. Work is now underway on the project.

Council bites CSC bullet

Elk Point Town Council agreed Monday night to "bite the bullet" and take the next step toward a new Community Services Centre. Up to $5000 will be spent to get sketches and a mock-up model of the proposed building prepared for presentation to groups of potential donors.

The ad hoc Council committee which is spearheading plans for the project have decided to plan for a 12,000 square foot building which includes a 3000 square foot auditorium, built in a block concept with movable interior walls which would make it very adaptable for multiple uses. It would be planned for easy expansion if more room were eventually required, and would also include the concept of having facilities for the senior citizens included if they decide to be involved in the project.

The committee feels that having sketches and a model of the proposed building will be advantageous when approaching local groups and corporate donors to obtain funding commitments.

The location of the building is not being discussed at this time, as the committee feels this is a separate decision and would only cloud the issue.

With a new Community Services Centre some time from realization, Council also discussed the essential renovations and refurbishing which must be done to make the present building useable for another year. An upset budget of $3600 was set for the work, which will include electrical upgrading, plumbing repairs, weather stripping and some interior painting.

An amendment to the Community Tourism Action Plan application by JSJV Holdings Ltd.

was approved by Council, increasing the grant application by $1275 and the total project cost by $1700 to add trees to the recreational vehicle campsite. Mayor Bruce Kleeberger noted that a development agreement for the project must be negotiated between Council and the developer before the grant funding can be released.

Council also agreed to give written support to the Chamber of Commerce in their application to obtain a CNR caboose as a tourism asset, following review of the proposal by the Tourism Action Committee.

Stanley Associates Engineering Ltd. will be invited to the next regular meeting of Council to formally present the recently completed raw water supply study, with their conclusions and recommendations. The consulting engineers will also be asked for advice and cost estimates on the engineering design for street and utility line replacement for 51 to 54 Avenues.

The responsibility for animal control within Elk Point's corporate limits will now become part of the job of the Bylaw Enforcement Officer. Former animal control person Karen Reed is no longer willing to continue this job, but has agreed to board captured animals at Rohdrin Kennels, dispose of animals if this becomes necessary, and render assistance in special or unusual circumstances or situations, as required. The day-to-day patrolling will be increased by 50 percent, but cost to the Town will actually be lowered by the change. A six month trial period was set for the new plan, with a review at that time.

The Town of Elk Point has agreed to put their AMHC Land

Bank and developed industrial land on the market. An 18.73 acre parcel of undeveloped and unserviced property makes up the Industrial Land Bank, and is subdivided into 14 parcels. The Town also has 7 serviced industrial lots available. The Town's Development Committee will meet with local realtors to discuss marketing of these properties.

The Town also has 45 acres of residential land bank, which they agree should not be marketed as developable residential land because of known servicing difficulties. It would, however, be suitable for recreational uses, and a list of local organizations will be compiled for individual contact in person or by letter, to determine if any of these would be interested in obtaining the property at a very reasonable cost for this type of use.

Funeral chapel well underway

Construction on Elk Point's newest business venture is well underway, with massive roof trusses being lifted into place on the concrete block structure of Babenek's Funeral Chapel early this week. The structure is located along Highway 41 between 50 and 51 Avenues, and will have a chapel seating capacity of over 150 people.

Edward and Elaine Babenek are both from the Elk Point area, and are looking forward to moving their family back to Elk Point, and to serving the needs of the community and surrounding areas with this modern facility.

Community Services News

Sailing course a success

Community Services hosted an Introductory Sailing Clinic July 7 and 8 on Muriel Lake. The 12 participants enjoyed 2 days of excellent sailing and all participants received certification in the White Sail program. Special thanks are extended to Betty Anne and Greg Alexander for hosting the course at their cottage, to Mike O'Neill and Adele Mandryk for providing the rescue boat, and to Sheila Thompson and Jim Hawkins for billeting the instructor.

Another Sailing Clinic Planned

There will be another sensational sailing session scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, July 28 and 29. This clinic will be for anyone interested in sailing, especially for people of any age who have never sailed and want to know what sailing is like. Phone 724-3800 for more details and to register.

Summer Play

July 3 was the starting date for the Summer Play Programs. We were impressed by the number of children registered and attending the programs, and we intend to do our very best to deliver programs that serve both as fun and learning experiences.

Because of the great response, we have now implemented a waiting list. If you are interested in registering your children in either of the programs, do not hesitate to contact us. We cannot guarantee places for additional children, but we will make every attempt to have them registered. The waiting list system has been implemented so that summer staff are able to better determine numbers which will still allow for safe supervision.

Both the children and staff had a busy first week. The children were eager to be involved, and seemed to be enjoying the programs. We hope their enthusiasm continues.

Homecoming honors longtime teacher

Ross Daniels, Chairman of the Settlement, presented all three Sisters with certificates of occupancy, turning over the teacherage in which they have lived to them so that they may remain in the community. The Settlement has purchased the teacherage from Northlands School Division for this purpose.

A member of J. F. Dion's Class of 1968, Jeannette Davy, presented Sister Irene with a gift and the original class register for that year, which was the first year Sister Irene was teaching at the school.

Sister Irene said her 22 years at J. F. Dion made up half of her teaching career, 31 years of which have been spent in native communities. "It has been wonderful. I would gladly start over, but this cannot be," she told the audience. Her years at J. F. Dion are "carved on my mind...it is a pleasant, wondrous time to remember...I am harvesting the golden memories from roots set down in 1968." She thanked the Sisters, School Board, teachers, co-workers, and teachers' aides for their assistance over the years, and paused to reflect on the students, janitors and Principal Stan Dmytrash who have passed away since she came to Fishing Lake. In closing, she assured those present that she and the other two Sisters "will be here to work for you" in years to come as residents of the community, although they have left the school.

Shortly after the conclusion of the banquet, the auditorium was again filled to capacity, this time for the Miss Fishing Lake Pageant. Seven girls from the Settlement, aged 13 to 17, competed for the title. The girls modelled sports and evening wear from St. Paul Co-op, in a fashion show coordinated by the event's coordinators, Shelley Crevier and Shiela McGillis, then demonstrated their abilities in public speaking and talent competitions.

Miss Metis, Twila Turcotte, crowned winner Laurie Crevier as Miss Fishing Lake, while Stephanie Anderson was declared the First Runner Up. In addition to a sheaf of flowers and a tiara, the winner received a $150 clothing gift certificate and a photo session. Each girl received a personalized sash. Other competitors in the pageant were Stacey Gladue, Lisa Calliou, Dinah Crevier, Ruby Cardinal and Angie Durocher.

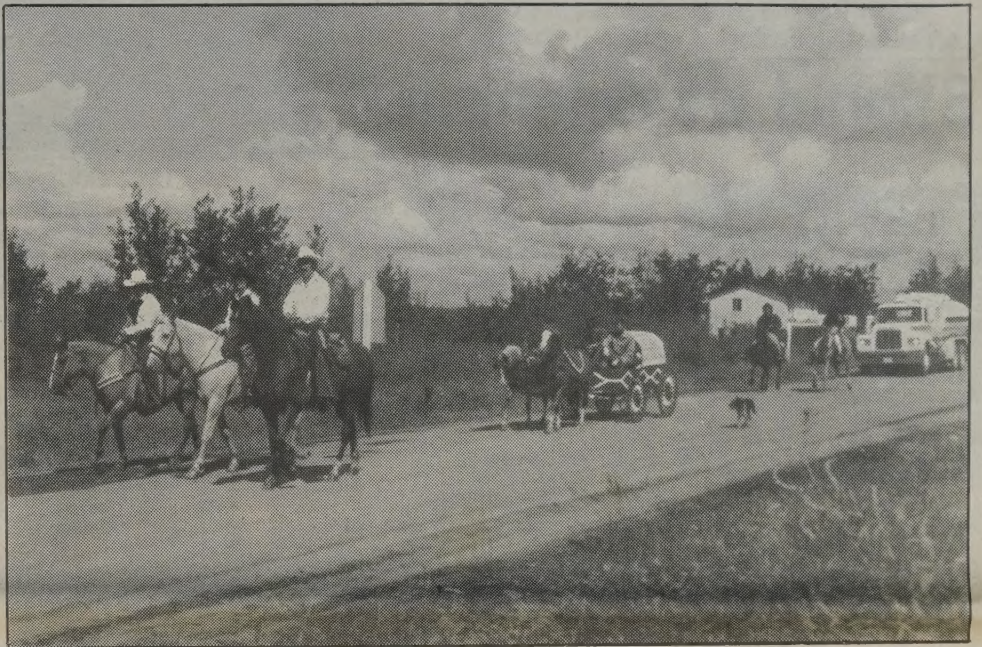

Lillian Souray, who served as mistress of ceremonies for the pageant, also entertained with her singing, including a stirring original number, "Metis Woman," which was given a standing ovation by the crowd.

Sponsors of the pageant included the Bonnyville Rehab Centre, AA-DAC and Texaco Canada.

Retiring Teacher Honored

Settlement Chairman Ross Daniels presents Sister Irene with a retirement gift, as well as the certificate of occupancy to the former teacherage where she and Sisters Julie and Gisele will continue to make their home.

Great Day For A Parade

Horses and riders, teams, commercial floats and clubs and organizations were well represented in the Fishing Lake Homecoming Parade last Saturday morning.

Miss Fishing Lake

Laurie Crevier was the delighted winner of the Miss Fishing Lake Princess Pageant, while Stephanie Anderson was the First Runner Up. Seven personable and talented young ladies took part in the pageant.

Hire a student

Is summer a time of drudgery for you, of all those jobs that have to be done during good weather, of never finding time to go to the lake or get in some fishing because there's just too many things that must be done first? If so, maybe you should check out Hire-A-Student, and get some help with your chores.

This is Hire A Student week, and what better time to call up and put in your job orders? They have a number of young registrants eager and willing to help out for a day, a week or the rest of the summer. It will benefit the workers, by giving them funds for their back-to-school expenses and also giving them experience in the working world, and it will benefit you by getting your work done so you can spend some time enjoying summer.

Don't be a slave to summer—hire a STUDENT!

Letter to the Editor

Should we celebrate?

To The Editor:

Five days ago, this whole nation celebrated what was supposed to be the anniversary of the birth of Canada. My question to everyone from Fredricton, Nova Scotia all the way to Vancouver, British Columbia is, SHOULD we be celebrating? And if so, celebrating what? Celebrating the death of a nation that could have been, once-upon-a-time, a nation that stood for peace, equality and brotherhood? We were, not long ago, a nation for the world, a country that showed other nations what it truly means to care for others. However, as we stood as a beacon of hope to the world, we forgot to heal a small wound that we had received at our birth. The wound grew so great that we finally died from it.

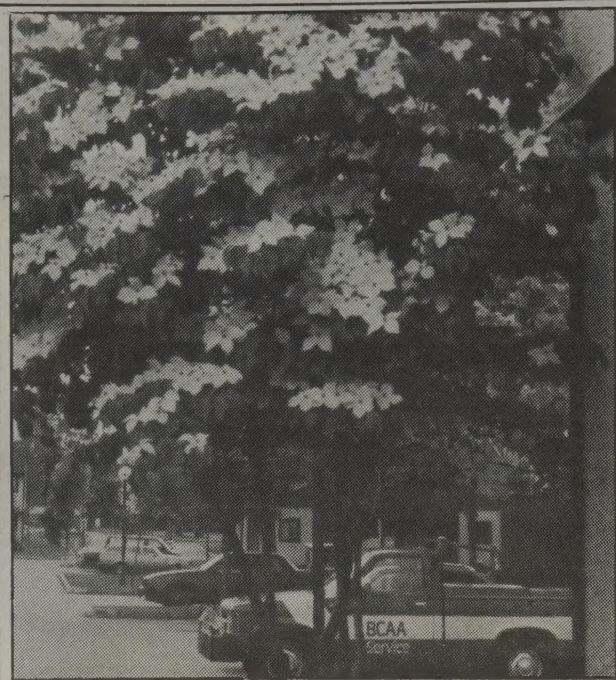

Indeed, all these words may sound cryptic, but I am simply talking about the prejudice that has grown in Canada between the French in Quebec and the rest of Canada. The Meech Lake Accord was the final tool that brought the old wound to the surface. What it caused was, in my eyes, a division that may never be bridged again between Quebec and the other provinces. For years, even before Brian Mulroney attempted Meech Lake, we were able to live somewhat peacefully, save for the era in history we may all wish to forget—the FLQ Crisis. But when Meech Lake came, it was an attempt to heal the wounds, although the Prime Minister and the premiers used inadequate and inappropriate tools. They attempted to heal our differences, instead they inflamed them and thus Meech Lake was indeed caught between 'a rock and a hard place,' for if it either lived or died, either the French or the English in Canada would not be happy.

When drafting the Accord, the politicians made a few mistakes. They did everything behind closed doors and away from the public, thus destroying, to me, the very essence of democracy. They totally ignored the many voices of the people who spoke through interest groups, the very people that would be affected by this new constitution. The politicians thought with their cold, analytical minds, focusing on politics and economics and nearly avoiding all social issues. What I refer to here is that they did not follow their HEARTS, as it seems to me, and ignored the prejudice and fear that the French and English have against each other. It is with both the hearts and minds of men that this nation was born, and with both, and only both, can this nation be strong. You need your mind to guide and judge, but you need your heart to see, to feel and to love.

I am a man of the world and place it first above all things in my heart, but to heal the world a person must first heal the wounds at home. No longer can I sit idly by and watch what was once Canada tear itself apart in seconds what took so many men and women so long to build. The Canada I once knew is dead, but it may yet rise again, Phoenix-like, from the ashes of the old, a newer, stronger, prouder nation than it was before.

But, to do this, we must first rid ourselves of the distrust we have amongst ourselves. From within my heart I have seen the English mistrust, hate and fear the French, and vice versa, for no good reason. To be able to grow, we have to be able to see our problems and be able to work at them ourselves. Our problem is that we cannot or will not look at each

B.C. Dogwoods In Bloom!

I suppose everyone who's been to British Columbia has seen their famous dogwoods in bloom — except me — but this time I made it. This is a 'late bloomer,' I was told, in Surrey, near my granddaughter Angela's town-house. They are so perfect they seem artificial — but indeed not! Small wonder they were chosen for their Provincial Flower.

There comes a time

By Irene Magnusson

No matter how we love our own land, the special area we call 'home', our personal town, our space, there comes a time when we leave it for other places for a time. If we do it deliberately, in a planned time, for our own pleasure—that is called a holiday. Especially so, if we leave our work behind—and hopefully—all thoughts of it.

Now why would a retired pensioner, presumably 'on holiday' all the time (does that description REALLY apply to ME?) need to go off on a holiday? Of all times, in JUNE, the very best month of the year around here?

My defense is—I promised. So the baby was born and I went to see her. Wouldn't you, if you had a brand new great-granddaughter? Number 8 she is, and a lovely, tiny, sweet little three weeks old when I first held her in my arms. Karoline Jean Fisher, daughter of Angela Fisher, granddaughter of my late beloved Patricia, MY ggd. She was doing robustly well, along with her sister Francis, 2 1/4, and older brother Austin, 5. Her mummy was a bit ratched out, but I'm sure she will cope, as will daddy Colin.

British Columbia has many charms, among them the fact that a goodly portion of my vast family live there. Of course I couldn't—and didn't see them all in my short two weeks—made shorter by a rotten B.C.-type cold, which de-voiced me for three days—and I only hit Vancouver and vicinity, and Victoria. But it was a wonderful two weeks, full of sun and beauty.

I've never flown out of the Edmonton Municipal Airport before, so that was event number one; then I took the flight to Calgary and changed planes—again a first. I will admit that it is a long, long walk from one plane to the next, but I made it.

A bonus was a short visit with son Mel and his wife Aline, at the Edmonton airport, down from Fairview for their son's graduation from U. of A. (which, of course, I missed), but it's a great feeling to have two grandchildren graduate from university in one year!

Our youngest son, Dennis and wife Lynda, newly returned to B.C. after three years near Ottawa, met me at the Vancouver Airport, and I spent the first while examining their lovely new home on the Heritage Mountain development of Port Moody. This is an area (and there seems to be many similar) where the attempt is made to pile as many homes as possible up a mountain-side.

The effect is quite spectacular, for these are tall, lovely homes, sparkling with glass, topped with a multitude of roofing styles, skylights, brick, rock, stucco, and siding, and the houses seem to be individually styled to hug their respective slanting rocky patch of hillside. A few streets further up the mountain still stands the virgin forest, tall cedar, firs, and pines, entwined below with fern, blackberry and salmonberry vines, and a multitude of greenery I have no names for. Along the edges grow the tall white and mauve foxgloves, so prevalent in B.C. at this time of year, with wild blue lupine, daisies, tall buttercups and many more. The forest sloped away from our path, and we could hear the trickles of a not-too-distant stream, but we didn't tackle going down to see it.

This smallish mountain was to the east of the house, so daybreak was a bit delayed. This was made up for by the lovely sunsets we witnessed most evenings, glowing above the houses below.

The streets of this development are laid out in large semicircles, so one has to take the right route, or end up back where you started. It is very beautiful, and the occupied homes are attractively landscaped,

Letter to the Editor

The bottom line

Dear Editor:

Re: Private French School—St. Paul

As taxpayers in the County of St. Paul, we will refuse to pay a portion of our taxes toward this proposed private French school.

We have no problem accepting the fact that some parents exercise the right to send their children to private school systems and to our knowledge the expense is privately funded. However, we will not pay a portion of our taxes toward a private French school. If the supporters of this school are so determined to have their own school—so be it! BUT—they have to be prepared to fund the school on their own.

Our present school system is more than adequate.

This is a matter of utmost concern to all of us within this county, and we urge response to this in letter form to our Minister of Education, Mr. Jim DINNING.

Sincerely,
Bob and Gloria Berg

the shrubbery and flowers ingeniously blended with the boulders removed from the basements, or otherwise exposed, so 'rock gardening' is the prevalent style. One also needs to have an affinity for climbing steps.

Port Moody pretty well surrounds the easternmost tip of the long salt-water bay, called Burrard Inlet. The hills—or should I only say mountains?—surrounding this inlet make wonderful vantage points for viewing the blue water far below, the boats and ships passing, and so several parks have been established, for those who can go there, to let them escape from the endless flow of traffic, the endless sea of buildings, to enjoy the greenery and ruggedness of nature, with a few man-made touches as well.

Dennis took me to one such park, called Burnaby Mountain Park, where we looked out over the inlet, toward Indian Arm, and saw a dozen or two tall poles, carved, it would seem, with a chainsaw, one topped with a large wooden eagle.

The view from this height was spectacular, the mountain dropping away very steeply, down toward the deep-blue water. This area was chain-link fenced, and hung with 'Danger!' signs. We walked past large rhododendrons, just past their prime, other flower beds, and came, at the top, to a large green area, flanked by two brightly painted totem poles. The others are totem poles, too, but not colored.

We went, on another day, to Como Lake, in Coquitlam, where the ducks and geese are as tame as house cats, and spent a pleasant half-hour circling the small man-made lake, at my pace, being passed by several joggers. I had no time to run, being too busy looking at the scenery.

Next week—Minters Gardens.

Heinsburg 4-H hosts Whitney Lake Rodeo

Two days of glorious weather, marred only by one brief shower, greeted competitors and spectators alike this weekend, when Heinsburg 4-H Multi Club hosted the Whitney Lake Rodeo.

Performances by the St. Paul 4-H Musical Riders, a Rodeo Dance at the Heinsburg Community Hall, a mini-parade, church service, live pre-rodeo entertainment and an all-you-can-eat breakfast helped to make the weekend a roaring success, as did the fine bucking stock supplied by Les Trach Rodeo Co. of St. Paul and the many excellent riders and ropers of the Lakeland Rodeo Association.

Robert Russnak of Viking took home the trophy in the Bareback Riding, which was sponsored by Little Implements, Vermilion, Lakeland Tire, Elk Point, Toronto Dominion Bank, Elk Point, and Stewart Sales and Management, Vermilion. Russnak scored 70 points on Misty Star for the win, while Brent Webster of Calgary and Glen Cole of Marwayne scored 67 apiece and Darrell Wickham of Elk Point a 66 to move Saturday's leader Ted Hehr of Sherwood Park down to fifth spot.

Junior Steer Riding winner Darrell Krawiec of Swan Hills outdistanced his twin brother Darren by 10 points and Saturday's tied leaders Trevor Wittmack and Leslie Hopwood by 5 points with his 73 point ride. Dewberry UFA Bulk Sales sponsored the event.

Saddle Bronc Riding ended in a 65-point tie between Larry Williamson (who also was the rodeo's bullfighter) and Boyd Mahon of Myrnam, for the trophy sponsored by Gordie's Tire of Elk Point.

Bull Riding was far less successful for the cowboys than for Trach's topnotch string of bulls, with only one qualified ride during the two days. Monte Heldt of Leduc managed to hang on to a nasty customer named "Enzymes" for the required 8 seconds to score a 64 and win the Fishing Lake Settlement Council trophy.

In the timed events, there were a bumper crop of contestants pitting their skills against the clock. Trevor Helmig of Clyde tied up the Calf Roping with a time of 9.2 seconds to win the event, sponsored by Agland, Vermilion and Lloydminster.

Roger and Kurt Fletcher of Wainwright had a fast 6.0 second run at Sunday's performance of the Team Roping, to win the event sponsored by Denny's Garage Ltd., Dewberry, Parkland Cafe and Lounge, Heinsburg, Valley Gasland, Lindbergh, Sharkey's Bus Lines, Heinsburg, and TAGS, Elk Point.

Valiant tries by Sunday's 14 Steer Wrestlers were to little or no avail, as none could match the 4.5 scores set by Saturday's tied leaders, Dean Lawes and Brent Hoyland. Sunday's closest time was set by Stan Garnier of Dewberry, with 4.9 seconds. Steer Wrestling sponsors were Dave's Pizza, Vogel's UFA and Woody's Trophy and Gift, all of Elk Point, Sparky's Oilfield Service, ClonDonald, and Percy Best Gravel Hauling, Heinsburg.

Two lovely young ladies from Forestburg were the winners in the Junior and Ladies' Barrel Racing. Michelle Bosh won the Junior event, sponsored by Larry and Norma Lorensen, with a time of 16.76 seconds edging out Saturday's leader Erica Neilsen of Elk Point with a time of 17.22, while Paris Bosh was just five hundredths of a second faster at 16.71 for the Ladies' win, to move Saturday's leader Barb Neilsen of St. Paul down in the standings. The Ladies' Barrel Racing was sponsored by Terry Wozniak Turbo Bulk Sales.

Six costumed riders gave their best shot in the Wild Ride, with local cowboy Darrell Wickham, dressed, believe it or not, as Siamese twins, taking the top prize with a score of 146 points. Shane Mahon of Myrnam scored 133 points for second place. A number of local businesses and individuals contributed to the prize money for this popular and very colorful event.

The youngest cowboys and cowgirls also had an opportunity to display their rodeo outfits, with Morgan Young and James Purdy taking home the trophies from Hillebrand Farms.

Leif Pynten of Heinsburg was the lucky winner of the saddle draw.

Other sponsors who contributed to the event were Rangeland Plumbing, Solar Farm Equipment and Lakeland Drilling of St. Paul, NRS Realty and Car-Ouells, Elk Point, Bert Duncan Livestock Trailer Sales, Wilter Auto, Civic Tire and Fountain Tire, Vermilion, and the Border Savings and Credit Union, Dewberry. The breakfast was sponsored by Leonard Sawak, John Lypowy and Nilsson Bros. Livestock.

Lioness Environment Tip Insects work as insecticides

Every garden hosts a huge population of insects. The majority are harmless or even beneficial. These beneficial insects keep the pest insect population down and are divided into two categories, predators and parasites.

We will deal with the predators this issue. Insect predators include beetles, robber flies, hornets, mantids, dragonflies, and lace wings. The majority are beetles that include ladybugs, tiger beetles and ground beetles. The ladybugs happily chew up and devour aphids and other insect pests in the garden.

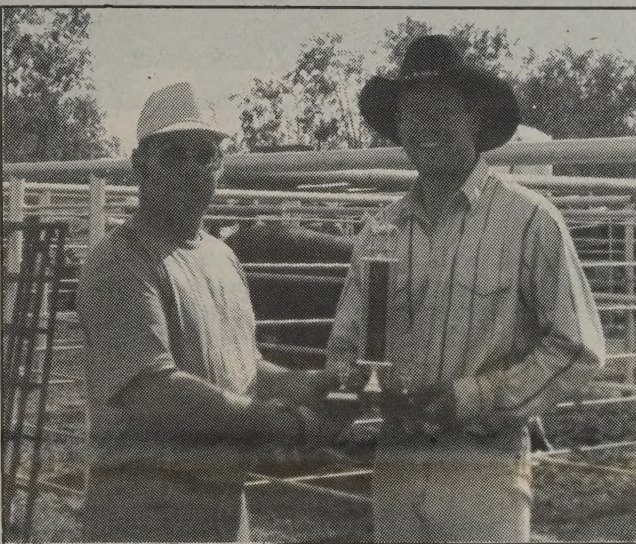

Ground beetles are another common garden inhabitant, usually found under stones, leaves and debris. Adult ground beetles are dark, shiny, and slightly flattened, with ribbed wing covers. Nearly all ground beetles feed on snails or other insects. The larvae are also predators and live in tunnels in the soil, under bark or in debris.

Next issue we will inform you of the second category of beneficial insects, the parasite.

All Around Cowboy

Boyd Mahon accepts the All Around trophy for Whitney Lake Rodeo from Walter Skolarchuk of Heinsburg 4-H Club, sponsors of the rodeo. Mahon tied for the Saddle Bronc trophy and also competed in Team Roping.

Class of 1970 looks back

Remembering Their School Days

Teachers From Way Back When

Trip of the month

Elk Point Lioness Club reports an out-of-town winner for their July Trip Of The Month draw. Gerry Stebneiko of Calgary won the trip for two to San Francisco. Sherry Pelech was the $ 100 cash winner, while Terry Shankowski won the $ 50 draw.

Should we celebrate Canada Day?

other, grab hands and say, "Man, thy name is brother." When we can look at each other as friends and not mistrusted allies we will be able to sing our anthem again, truly meaning it. Our problem has lasted longer than those of the blacks and whites of our southern brother—the U. S. A.. I ask everyone, is it not time to stop and heal our wounds properly? Can we at least give it a try, with our hearts?

I am no Superman, though at times I wish I could be. I have no amazing powers to suddenly heal all the wounds in the world. I am a simple man trying my best to help those in need in this world, any way I can. I never collapse and give up, although I've dearly wanted to at times. And yet it seems to me that this nation, from east to west, has already given up. My advice to everybody out there is to simply try your best, but never give up. Canada has failed once, is that the only chance you're going to give it? Never surrender. To the politicians, I ask to stop using only their minds, go away from the norm of politics—use your hearts and you will see that things are not as hard as you make them out to be, as long as you start caring more about people than votes, donations and the next election. We all can remember the past, but we should all look toward the future, for that is where we are all going to spend the rest of our lives. I pray and hope that tomorrow is going to be a brighter and better place to live.

Sincerely,
Jason K. Smereka

Those who roamed the halls of F. G. Miller High School, Elk Point, two decades ago returned to their old stomping grounds on the Canada Day weekend for a fulfilled reunion, centred on the Class of 1970.

Approximately 70 adults and a large number of children were on hand for the event, which included tours of the high school, elementary school and the Community Services Centre, which was the Junior High School during the late 1960s.

Maryann Kozicky, a member of the Class of 1970, said the visit to the former Junior High was "the highlight of the tour. It was like stepping back in time—nothing was changed at all."

Following the tours, the group made their way to Stoney Lake for a lunchtime weiner roast, followed by a variety of games such as would be found at an old-time picnic, including horseshoes and egg tossing. A catered supper and a dance rounded out the day.

"Everyone had a great time, and we feel it was a huge success," Mrs. Kozicky said. "It was great seeing everyone again."

A special souvenir of the reunion was created by Julie Boyko, who was warmly thanked for the yearbooks she made for her former school-mates.

What's news at the library?

The Elk Point Public Library won first place in the theme portion of the Canada Day Parade. Thanks go to Faye Smith, Project Coordinator, and her crew, the 1990 grad class for the flowers, Louise Krissa and Pan Canadian for the candy, and the Lions Club for the prize money.

We would like to welcome everyone to this year's "Dive for a Book" Summer Reading Program. On Tuesday the elementary kids got all goosed up, fingerpainting sea creatures. A lively match of Win, Lose or Draw was embarked on. Heavy cheering could be heard throughout the library.

On Friday the preschoolers were entertained by fish stories and a puppet show. They then went on to make their own fish puppets, finishing off the program with a game of Follow the Leader. We are looking forward to seeing everyone back next week for more fun.

Due to popular demand, the library will be having our Thursday afternoon kids matinee again this summer at 2:00 p.m. This week's movie will be "Treasure Island".

New Books:
"Every Girl's Lifeline" by Miriam Stoppard, the well-known author, TV personality and doctor, provides really down-to-earth advice on everything you want to know about growing up, feeling fit, and looking good as a female. "Toddlers and Parents" by Dr. Brazelton, who helps parents see the excitement and wonder, as well as the exasperating challenges of children as they discover their own power and sense of self.

Thank You

SMITH, George

The family of George Smith wishes to express thanks to relatives, friends and neighbours for their generosity and support through the loss of our wife, mother and grandmother, Inez Smith. Special thanks to the medical staff of the Elk Point Hospital for all of their efforts, to Reverend Sam Donaldson, the United Church Choir, pallbearers and John Yewchin and staff.

Your good wishes, cards, floral bouquets, food and donations will long be remembered.

Wed Fifty Years

Leonard and Norma Berg celebrated five decades of happy married life with the help of family and friends last weekend.

Local graduates from Lakeland College

Local area students were among the 310 honored at Lakeland College graduation ceremonies held June 2 at the Vermilion, Alberta campus. Dawn Castellan, Valerie Ockerman and Loretta Swedgan graduated in Office Administration course at the St. Paul campus, while Wanda Lawrence and Tracy Oryshchuk graduated in Early Childhood Services.

Guest speaker honors this year were handed over to four graduates of recent years, who shared their thoughts on how the Lakeland College experience has helped to shape their lives. Those graduates are now employed in areas directly related to their training—kitchen design, animal health care, rural bank management and wildlife conservation / park administration.

Lakeland College is an Alberta / Saskatchewan interprovincial college with campuses in Lloydminster and Vermilion, and learning centres in five other regional communities. Full-time program enrolment is approximately 1500 students.

In 1989-90 Lakeland College's new Lloydminster Campus was opened, and a residence complex there is under construction. Program expansion at Lloydminster included the introduction of second year studies in University Transfer, and of a new program in Rehabilitation Services. This fall, Lloydminster Campus will expand its Business Administration program with the launching of a Computer Science major.

At Vermilion Campus, an Environmental Monitoring and Enforcement program is set to start this fall and the Animal Health Technology program has recently been granted accreditation. The college also received a national award this year for its work in the field of adult literacy.

Career programs at Lakeland College include agriculture, business and office administration, early childhood development, environmental sciences, heavy oil operations, interior design, rehabilitation services, trades, and university transfer.

50 years - not such a long time

By Irene Magnusson

Leonard Berg and Norma Bjauman were married in the United Church at Vermilion, June 6, 1940. On July 7, 1990 the couple, together with many family members and scores of well-wishing friends, gathered in celebration of that wonderful day, 50 years ago, when the two became one.

All five of the Berg children were present, Blaine, Harvey and Howard, sons, and Ingrid (Jansen) and Vali (Hewitt), daughters, as well as their thirteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Norma's twin sister, Thelma (Wilson), flew up from Seattle, Wash., to help the happy couple celebrate, as well as to spend a few days around the Berg farm home. Their brother Jack Bauman, from St. Albert, also attended, along with many other family members.

A supper was served family members, in the King George hall dining room, earlier in the evening, then as friends and well-wishers poured in, they were received by Leonard and Norma, at a flower decked table in the hall, the lovely wedding cake proudly displayed. Countless blue and gold balloons floated gracefully from tall pillars about the hall.

A portion of the wall was given over to a display of photographs, a family history, from the little black and whites of long years ago, to the brightly colored pictorial resume of trips taken in these later years. The farm home photos showed the passing years, as improvements were made, from rough country home to the impressive, graciously laidout farmstead of today, modern and well-kept. Plants and flowers were much in evidence, enforcing the image friends and family know of Norma's love of plant life, and her continuing interest in the Horticultural Society at Vermilion.

Blaine Berg, eldest son, rose to say a few words on the life of his parents, the fact that they had come to the area as youngsters; Norma with her family from Kansas, and Leonard with his family from Sweden. Norma's family and Leonard's family met, and became friends, while Norma and Leonard met, and became married. Leonard made farming his career, while Norma worked at the Elk Point Hospital for many years, to add to the family income, leaving the children to become self-sufficient at an early age. These responsibilities had not harmed them, one would gather.

Ingrid spoke on the growing-up years of herself and siblings, the songs and chores and love in the family, as they grew to become adults. Blaine had the attentive audience in stitches, as he recounted numerous, and humorous, nicknames attached to various family members, and ribbed his fathers' (fictitious ?) attempt to plant a 'raisin tree'.

In reply, Norma stated that she "was overwhelmed" by the outpourings of good wishes and love from family and friends. She thanked them all, her children, other family members, and all the friends and neighbors who came to wish Leonard and herself well on this marking of their first fifty years of wedded bliss. The applause grew even more thunderous as Leonard rose to the occasion and kissed his still-blushing bride of 50 years. Both have worn it very well.

The cake was cut, lunch served, countless photos taken. The day could not have been more congenial, sunny and mild. One felt, looking at these two, that 50 years had not seemed a long time, and that 50 more would not be too many.
